

STUDY MUSIC PUBLISHING AT WITS

EMERGING South African music entrepreneurs have received a welcome boost with the introduction of a targeted music publishing course at the University of the Witwatersrand.

Developed in partnership with the Southern African Music Rights Organisation (Samro), the part-time Business

Principles of Songwriting and Music Publishing course will be launched in February this year.

The evening classes will run for 14 weeks, with one two- to three-hour lecture per week. Students will receive a certificate from Wits on their successful completion of the course and the final exam. Registration for the first semester closes on January 15, 2010. The cost of the course is R5 120.
